President of United States Gives Silver Trophies at Congress

Of all the wonderful experiences and adventures awaiting 4-H delegates to the National Congress, there are two which are most vividly remembered by the girls who are to enjoy these awards in the name of the President of the United States. They are the trophies and those for other national and international trophies which will be presented to the winners at the club member's own home. A secondary thrill for the girls is the fact that the trophies will be presented at the national 4-H theatre, a new Congress feature described in this issue.

Real trophies for the delegates this year will be the trophies which will hang in front of the 4-H station where the delegates will be seen for blocks. The trophies have many advantages, being centrally located and just a short distance from the 4-H station. They are also trophies for the stockyards. The trophies at the yards will be presented in the Boys' and Girls' Club Building as usual in connection with the International Live Stock Exposition. The trophies will be shown and exhibited as usual at the exposition.

Achievement Days

This is the season for achievement programs. The year's effort with the 4-H programs we have ever had, the variety in types of programs was greater and their quality higher. "More than ever before," the girls have been recognized within the week or will be than for the season a year ago.

Achievement day should be the biggest event in the year for 4-H Clubs. And we believe it is its real significance was made clearly impressed on club members and all others in the work there would be everything lacking in these events. A member must achieve his goal before he knows what it takes to achieve. He must feed a pig to market requirements and then he knows what it takes to do it. He must raise a crop of corn or potatoes and then he knows what it takes to raise crops. And so on. Many a club has started in to do these things thinking it is a snap. It is the time for them to learn it, and not after he starts for himself. Some way with the 4-H. They must achieve before they know what it takes. That "know how" is the precious value of 4-H training.

Making 4-H Club Plans of Work and Programs for Monthly Meetings

Now club should make a plan of work by December 10th for the coming year. This should contain specific plans for the year's work to be accomplished during the next twelve months. There should be project and community club plans, as well as those directly for the personal improvement of the individual members.

The project goals should be well adapted to the special needs of the members of each club. If rightly selected, they will be much to stimulate the interest and ambition of the members. For example, the girls in the food project might try to serve more attractive meals in their own homes, work to have every club member practice correct table habits, or to make canning budgets for their families. Clothing project girls might take as their goal to be better dressed, to make their own clothes, or to have their own darning. Poultry club members might call all flocks pure-bred, try to have all flocks pure-bred, or to increase the egg production of their flocks.

Each club should also have a community goal, something which would call for the cooperation of all club members. Some clubs have beautified school grounds, and roadsides, secured books for library, financed delegates to county, sponsored music memory contests, organized club orchestras, decorated school soup or cocoa at school during winter months. A committee might be appointed to find something suitable that will appeal to the members and then all work on it. No club can attain its highest possibilities if it does not help in the personal improvement of each member. Boys and girls are interested in improving themselves.

The program of the monthly meeting should be considered the machinery for carrying out the club plan of work. This should be kept in mind and careful attention given to developing the right goals; then see that the monthly programs include them. Make all of the programs lead to a very definite development of both the members and the club. Monthly programs should be made out for the entire year by December. The club year runs from December 1st to November 30th. These programs must be made in detail, carrying both specific types, amounts, talks, etc., and the names of those who are to give them. A set of these programs should be made for the leader and one for the County Club agent.

Miss Estelle Nason, Home Demonstration Agent, will attend the first of the series of Community planning meetings in Oxford County. This meeting is scheduled for Brownfield on Tuesday, December 6th, at 10:30 A. M. Mrs. Walter Bickford is chairman of the women's division and Albert Brooks of the men's.

Other planning meetings scheduled for the coming week are: Hiram, Denmark and Fryeburg. Mrs. Grace Kinnear, Biddefordville Chairman of the Mexico Farm Bureau announces the following committee in charge of the planning meeting held in the Baptist Church, Vestry on Thursday, December 15th: Hall, Mrs. Curtis, Mrs. Kinnear; Attendance, Mrs. Sherman; Publicity, Mrs. Esty; Entertainment, Mrs. Esty; Dinner, Mrs. Kinnear, Mrs. Averill, Mrs. Jones.

People all over the county know that a "square meal" means a good dinner, and that Farm Bureau women are notoriously good cooks. 1,195 people representing 19 different organizations ate meals which were "well balanced, nutritious and satisfying" in Oxford County a total of 238 meals were served to 3,349 men, women and children.

The Norway group with Mrs. George Greenleaf as chairman, and Mrs. Edythe Greenleaf as food project leader, served more meals to outsiders than any other community. The Eastern Star, W. C. T. U. and Rotary Club are among their regular customers. A meal need not have to be made for the Farm Bureau to count in the County Contest. Three members of the committee must be Farm Bureau women and the menu must be the requirements of a "square meal" so Granges, 4-H Club banquets, Women's Clubs and Town Meeting dinners can all be made to count.

The County "Square Meal" Contest for 1933 begins December 1st of this year. There are several groups of women who have resolved that the prize for the largest number of approved meals shall come to their community.

Science Explodes Our Pet Theories About Diet

Are you one of the countless persons who live in constant apprehension about certain foods and food combinations? In this age of modern scientific knowledge, it is strange that we still hear many of the old popular notions about foods, which belong where they probably started, to the age of Black Magic. All of us have heard that to eat lobster and drink milk at one meal would be deadly poisonous. We know countless folks who would shudder before they would eat fresh cherry pie and drink sweet milk. We commonly hear that fish is a brain food, celery is good for nerves, meat makes a man strong, that milk is constipating and cheese is very indigestible. We know folks who avoid tomatoes and oranges because they have a so-called "acid condition." Advertisements lead us to believe that bran as cereal will overcome all our digestive troubles, and certainly the manufacturers of every weight reducing food that you eat daily would set us all right on our feet.

These food fancies have no real scientific basis, but why have they survived? Probably for the same reason that fortune tellers have. If the crystal gazer warns you about a certain dark-eyed friend, there are few of us who can not apply this description to some of our acquaintances. Just so, when we hear of a man who is indigestible in the middle of the night, we think back to supper or dinner and try to find some food, about which we have heard slighting remarks, and at once lay the blame on the fish, milk, strawberries, or cucumbers which we ate that day, and we declare from then on that we "simply cannot eat" this or that—"that certain foods poison us" instead of reasoning that we were too tired or nervous at supper time, or some other more reasonable solution.

What about milk with acids? Some one may tell you that the two should not be served at the same meal because the acid caused the milk to curdle in the stomach! Does this person know that the natural gastric juice of our stomachs contains hydrochloric acid which is far stronger than the acids of lemon and orange juice or cherries? One of the first steps in the digestion of milk is the curdling which is caused by gastric juice. If we did not have an acid stomach, conditions would be very abnormal and unfavorable for digestion, so drink your orange juice and milk for breakfast with perfect peace.

The theory that tomatoes, oranges, and lemons should be avoided by those having a so-called "acid condition" is entirely false, because chemistry shows that these acid fruits, when digested, leave an alkaline or basic substance, which actually counteracts an acid condition. Another common saying we have all heard is "John must have meat, because he works so hard in the field," and you begin to think that your John, too, needs more meat because he is strenuous and overworked. Hard physical exercise demands energy and this is supplied not by meats or other protein foods as much as by starches and sugars, so the chances are that John really doesn't need meat as much as his two-year-old son Henry, who is rapidly building body tissue and who needs milk, eggs, and meat to help this process.

In regard to the brain and yeast advocates, there are undoubtedly many people who are benefited by taking them, but physicians instead of to an advertising agency should advise them to be that everybody should take them. Remember that no food, no medicine, no treatment can possibly be a "cure-all."

There are a few sanitariums in the country whose pet theory is that starches and proteins should not be eaten at the same time and they designate Monday as meat day, Tuesday starches, etc. Along with this diet they give the patients excellent care and supervision and force on them complete rest and plenty of sunshine and treatment which would doubtless help every patient. The patient is, however, led to believe that this diet has done the trick.

We all have our ideas about foods, but must realize that nature doesn't play queer tricks on us, that no foods eaten singly and in moderation can form mysterious combinations within us to poison the whole system. As far as science knows, any good edible foods may be combined in moderate amounts and consumed by an individual, unless he has a very special sensitization against this food, and these sensitizations will be discussed later on in another article.

Be careful where you get your dietetic information, and don't be taken in by food fanatics. The wise diet doctor will tell you as to how he happened to be eating a certain strange combination of foods, she said, "Well, Doctor, I suppose about this in the Atlantic." The doctor replied, "Take care, madam, some day you may die from a misprint!"

Crops Project Leader Reports at Annual Meeting

We are trying our best to put Oxford County on a better yielding level through better seed potatoes. This year twenty-seven men have worked hard with seed plots toward this goal. Members should not fail to see the benefits which this very special sensitization against this food, and these sensitizations will be discussed later on in another article.

DENMARK

The Hartford-Vale Theological students visited the parish this week end, conducting the church service on Sunday. Mr. and Mrs. Elwood Pingree entertained our student guests. Our young people attended the young people's meeting at Limington, Sunday evening.

Mr. and Mrs. Elwood Pingree entertained dinner guests, Tuesday evening, Mr. and Mrs. B. B. Wentworth, Benjamin Wentworth, Minnie Trumbull, Richard Oram, Jennie True, and Hazel Kigall.

Richard Oram received his Master Mason degree on Wednesday evening. The district deputy was present. The officers are responsible, and that inquiry into the merits of their application is expedient. It is ordered that the County Commissioners meet at the J. L. Gilpatrick home on December 10th next, at ten-thirty of the clock A. M., and select petitioners to view the route mentioned in said petition; immediately after which view, a hearing of all parties and their witnesses will be held at some convenient place in the vicinity, and such other measures taken in the case as the Commissioners shall judge proper. And it is further ordered, that notice of the time, place and purpose of the Commissioners' meeting be given to all persons and corporations interested, by causing attested copies of said petition to be posted at least thirty days before said time of meeting, to the end that all persons and corporations may then and there appear and show cause, if any they have, why the prayer of said petitioners should not be granted.

Attest: ROBERT E. ALDRICH, Clerk. (Seal) County of Oxford, ss. Board of County Commissioners, September Session, 1932, held by adjournment November 15, 1932.

Rolph Knightly, South Paris; H. G. Chesley, Sumner; Elery Kidder, Peru, and Charles Hersey, Waterford. Vegetables for Health have been the largest attended meetings of the year. Joint meetings of the men and women always seem to bring out large numbers for a good time and a good dinner. At these meetings, farmers learned more about the better varieties to grow, fertilizer and lime requirements and insect and disease control. Potato seed plots and lime are the two projects that we need in our county programs for next year.—Bertrand O. Buck, Crops Leader, Buckfield, Maine.

Does your water faucet spit and sputter air when you first open it? One solution may be that your pipe to that faucet is branched off on the top side of the main pipe. All branch piping should come from the bottom of a main line. Attractive appearance from the public road has much to do with the value of a farmstead and the satisfaction derived from it.

Tuberculosis still kills more persons between the ages of 15 and 45 than any other disease. Tuberculosis is the greatest cause of death between the ages of 20 and 40. This includes accidents. One out of every five persons who die between the ages of 15 and 45 dies of tuberculosis. Tuberculosis kills more children under 21 than any other communicable disease.

If you are troubled with lime deposits in your water pipes, try running a rain water through your water system once or twice a month. The soft water will absorb a considerable amount of the lime deposits.

Convenient driveways add much to the satisfaction derived from a well laid out farmstead.

SOUTH RUMFORD

Howard-Davis and Wentzell-Abbott Weddings.

The wedding of Miss Elizabeth Davis, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Davis, 103 Prospect Ave., East Rumford, to Alvin Howard, son of Frank Howard, 103 Knox Street, Rumford, took place at high noon, Thanksgiving Day, at the home of the bride's parents. The bride wore a gown of white satin, with a long veil, cap shape, and carried up with orange blossoms, carried a bride's bouquet of white roses and lilies of the valley. The bridesmaid, Miss Portia Pendleton of Waterville, roommate of the bride while at Normal School, wore a gown of green at the Normal School, and carried a bouquet of white roses and lilies of the valley. The best man was Harold Elliott of Rumford Point, a cousin of the groom. Rev. Chas. B. Brooks, pastor of the Franklin St. church, officiated, using the double ring service, and Miss Elizabeth Howard, sister of the groom, played the wedding music. The ceremony took place under an archway of green, decorated with white carnations, and under a bell of white carnations, with large white chrysanthemums at each end of the archway.

Following the ceremony, a reception was held and a buffet lunch served, only the immediate family and intimate friends being present. Miss Doris served while Miss Miss Eleanor Fortier served while Miss Pauline Matthews was in charge of the guest table and Mrs. Alton Worthington of the guest book. Following the reception, the couple left on a wedding trip, the bride traveling with her mother, and the groom with his mother and hat. The bride was born in Rumford and graduated from Stephens High School in the class of 1929 and from Farmington Normal in 1931. The groom was also born in Rumford and graduated from Stephens High in 1925 and from the University of Maine in 1930, since which time he has been employed by the Central Maine and Power Company. At the present time he is located in Waterville, where they will make their home.

Miss Madeline Abbott, daughter of Mrs. Lucy Kimball Abbott and the late Charles Abbott of East Rumford, and Russell Wentzell of Mablewood, Nova Scotia, were married at the home of the officiating clergyman, Rev. G. W. M. Keyes, in Andover, Sunday afternoon, Nov. 20. Accompanying them was Miss Margaret Bell, R. N., of Waterville, an intimate friend of the bride, who is traveling with her. The bride, who is traveling with her mother, was born in Rumford, graduated from Stephens High School, and trained for a nurse at Sisters' Hospital in Waterville. She also held a special course in anesthesia in a hospital in Chicago, and served for a time in Plainville, N. J. Hospital and has been engaged in private case work at various places. The groom has been located in Rumford for several years and is employed by Mrs. Lucy Abbott and her son, Warren Abbott.

Mr. and Mrs. Lee Elliott were Thanksgiving guests of Mr. Elliott's sister, Mrs. Sam Thurston, at Farmington. Harold Miller was with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Howard Miller, at Bethel, over the holiday.

Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Horne and daughter, Hiram, were guests of their sister, Mrs. Elias Jacobs, and Mr. Jacobs, Thanksgiving Day.

Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Stone and little son, Ralph, of Rockland were Thanksgiving week guests of their mothers, Mrs. Louise Stone and family of Mexico and Mrs. Harriett Abbott and family, East Rumford.

Gertrude Stevens was at home from Bliss College over the holiday and week end.

UNIVERSAL BIBLE SUNDAY

Governor William T. Gardner urges the observance of Universal Bible Sunday on next Sunday, Dec. 4, by the church of his Maine.

The American Bible Society, an international and non-denominational agency engaged in the circulating of the Scriptures, and which last year put into distribution nearly ten million volumes of Scriptures in fifty different countries and in upwards of 200 languages, has promoted Universal Bible Sunday for over a decade. Many churches in America and in foreign lands will unite in the observance of Universal Bible Sunday in order to emphasize the importance of the Bible in the development of Christian life and character.

In commending Universal Bible Sunday Governor Gardner says: "I am glad to endorse the effort of the American Bible Society in encouraging the observance of Universal Bible Sunday on Dec. 4th. I am sure that the efforts will be productive of results and will help those who are reached to finer ideals in life."

TEMPERATURE FOR NOVEMBER

John Wight submits daily readings of the thermometer at 6 a. m., with a comparison for five years.

The past month has run on par with November 1929 and 1931. Mild mornings were recorded until a change downward was recorded after the 22nd. Zero on the 27th was brought in by a cold wave that swept over the northern states and touched Virginia with a chill. Cold prevailed on succeeding mornings until the break came on the 30th and the month went out mild and gentle. The daily average was 24 degrees and a fraction. Daily average for eight year period, 28 degrees.
